A PLACE FOR MEETING AND COMMUNICATING

The Centre Mondial de la Paix is a memorial and a cultural landmark that cannot be ignored. It organizes many events on the theme of Peace, Liberty and Human Rights that invite us to reflect on those matters : symposiums and conferences on international issues, expositions, cultural gatherings, various meetings and assemblies...

In 1966, during the 50th anniversary of the battle of Verdun, the Book of Peace is unveiled at the town hall and signed by General de Gaulle : Verdun becomes the «Peace Capital of the World».

On September 22, 1984, president Mitterrand and chancellor Kohl come and reflect in silence, hand in hand, in front of the Ossuary at Douaumont. This highly symbolic gesture marks not only reconciliation but also renewed friendship between the two peoples.

As a natural consequence, the Association du Centre Mondial de la Paix, des Libertés et des Droits de l'Homme is founded in 1990 in Verdun.

After some rehabilitation that completes in 1994, the old bishop's palace begins housing the Center's locales.
